A Queer Illumination.

There was some curiosity on the part of observant persons and quite a little consternation on the part of the superstitious last night about 10 o'clock on account of a brilliant illumination in the northwestern sky, evidently the reflection of a mammoth fire some distance from the city. It passed entirely from view about 11 o'clock, but was plainly discernible all over the city for an hour previous to that time.

THROUGH TRAINS TO THE NORTH.

Efforts of Merchants' Association to Secure Better Passenger Service Over the Atlantic Coast Line.

The Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association met yesterday afternoon ar 3.30 o'clock in the association's rooms in the Seaboard Air Line building.

Col. Wm. A. Johnson, president of the association and chairman of the board, was not present, having gone to Clinton. In his stead, Mr. M W. Jacobi, vice president, presided. Mr. P. Heinsberger, the secretary, was on hand.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and the usual routine business was transacted.

Secretary Heinsberger made a report for the committee appointed to co-operate with the committee of the Masonic Temple Corporation in securing reduced passenger rates for the Masonic Fair, to be held in the new Temple from November 20th to December 2d. The report was to the effect that satisfactory arrangements in this connection had been made. The report was received and the committee discharged.

The chairman called for the report of the special committee appointed to confer with the Atlantic Coast Line authorities with reference to having a through train to and from Wilmington and the North. Mr. James Sprunt, chairman of the committee, thereupon made the following report:

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 4, 1899.

W. A Johnson, Esq., President Merchants' Association of Wilmington:

SIR—Your committee appointed to confer with the General Manager of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for the purpose of obtaining better passenger accommodation on through trains from New York and intermediate cities to Wilmington, respectfully report that two conferences have been held with Major Kenly, who received us courteously.

Our first proposal, that one of the through daily trains from the North be sent by the old route, via Wilmington, instead of by the short cut, to the South, was met by a decided negative. The general manager stated that such a change would be fatal to their traffic arrangement for both passenger and mail service, and that it was not to be entertained for a moment.

Our second proposal was for a through Pullman car service from Washington to Wilmington to arrive at 9.45 A. M., the passengers to be undisturbed at Wilson and the car to remain overnight at that junction; also that a through sleeper be sent from Wilmington by the evening train, which would connect at Wilson without disturbing the Wilmington passengers at the unseasonable hour of 11 P. M. To these suggestions the General Manager objected because he said the trains were already as heavy as they could be run on the schedule and it was impossible to increase their capacity, the limit of which was already reached. He promised, however, to consider the matter carefully, and if it is possible to afford better facilities he will do so within a reasonable time.

Our conference developed some interesting features with reference to local trains. Major Kenly stated that the Atlantic Coast Line was running six daily passenger accommodation trains to Wilmington, only one of which has been at all profitable; they also employ a large force of skilled and unskilled laborers, besides many expert employes, clerks, accountants, etc., the cost of which enters largely into the revenues of Wilmington; also that it was the policy of his company to provide for the merchants and travellers of Wilmington every reasonable facility consistent with sound business principles.

We are disappointed in our unsuccessful efforts to secure the benefits or conveniences desired, but we hope that after reflection the General Manager of the Atlantic Coast Line may find some way to mitigate or overcome the discomfort to Wilmington passengers of changing cars at Wilson at inconvenient hours.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES SPRUNT,
C. W. WORTH,
WM. E SPRINGER,
B. H. J. AHRENS,
E. P. BAILEY,
Committee.

Mr. Sprunt, in presenting the report, said General Manager Kenly received the committee very courteously and expressed himself as anxious to comply with the wishes of the Wilmington merchants as far as it could possibly be done, and that he hoped to so re-adjust the schedule by Spring as to make it satisfactory.

Mr. George R. French moved that the report of the committee be received with thanks, that it be considered as "progress" and that the committee be continued. The motion was adopted.

There being no further business the board adjourned.

At the Opera House.

"The Little Cadet," a romantic musical comedy in three acts, was presented last night by Miss Paige and her company of popular players, and was much enjoyed by all who attended. The audience was not as large as the play deserved. The play was the strongest presented as yet; each performer ably filling the role assigned.

Miss Paige as usual appeared in the title role and was the same charming little lady as on previous nights. The specialties were very good, the singing of Miss Jessie Loraine assisted by Master Johnny Heby, the phenomenal boy tenor, deserves special mention.

The matinee, notwithstanding the inclement weather, was very well patronized. The company presented the laughable three act comedy "A Bachelor's Dilemma"

To-night the company will present "Miss Juliet" and this afternoon another dime matinee will be given.

CHRYSANTHEMUM WEDDING.

Mr. Carl E. Schachner and Miss Mattie C. Davis United in Marriage Yesterday Afternoon.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E H. Davis, 903 North Fourth street, was the scene of a beautiful chrysanthemum wedding yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, their lovely daughter, Miss Mattie Caroline Davis, being wedded to Mr. Carl E. Schachner, of Charlotte. The marriage took place in the parlor, which was handsomely decorated with chrysanthemums.

The marriage ceremony was impressively performed by the Rev. Father Francis, O. S B., of Charlotte, in accordance with the holy rites of the Catholic Church, and the happy affair was witnessed by quite a gathering of relatives and intimate friends. The bride's attractive sister, Miss Minnie Gold Davis, was maid of honor and Mr. Julius Schachner, of Charlotte, brother of the groom, was best man.

The beautiful bride was attired in a handsome tailor made travelling dress of gray cloth, with hat to match, and carried a pretty bouquet of bride roses and maidenhair fern. The maid of honor wore a becoming dress of green henrietta trimmed in white.

After the marriage the couple were showered with felicitations and soon afterwards they repaired to the Seaboard Air Line station and took the 3.05 P. M. train for Atlanta and other Southern cities. After Tuesday next they will be at home at 606 North Church street, Charlotte.

Mr. Schachner carries away one of Wilmington's most estimable young ladies, and is to be heartily congratulated upon his good fortune. The STAR wishes Mr. and Mrs. Schachner a long and happy life.

The couple gave a reception on Tuesday night and a large number of their friends were in attendance. Choice refreshments were served and the affair was quite a delightful one. There was an array of very handsome and valuable presents from friends South and North.

Noble, of Selma, who was expected to arrive to complete the arrangements for the fair and to dedicate the temple, did not arrive. Mr. James C. Munds received a telegram from him at the last moment stating that it would be impossible for him to come so soon as he expected, but it is certain that he will arrive in a very few days. In the meantime, Col. Martin is leaving no stone unturned to make of the fair what has been assured all along—an immense success. The fair opens, as has been stated frequently, on November 20th.

CAROLINA CENTRAL. STOCKHOLDERS MET.

Annual Session Held Yesterday—Directors Chosen for Ensuing Year—Another Meeting December 13th.

Pursuant to adjournment October 5th, the stockholders of the Carolina Central Railroad Company met yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the Front street office of the company. A large majority of the stock was either represented in person or by proxy and the meeting was a very harmonious one.

Among the stockholders present were Judge L. R. Watts, of Portsmouth, Va., Capt. John H. Sharp, Secretary and Treasurer, of Portsmouth, Va., Mr. D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., Messrs. G. J. Boney, James C. Stevenson, John F. McNair and J. V. Grainger, of Wilmington.

The annual reports of the president and treasurer were presented and received.

The following named stockholders were elected as directors for the ensuing year:

Messrs. John S. Williams and Edward B. Addison, of Richmond; J. Augustus Johnson, J. Brander Watkins, C. Sidney Shepard, of New York; R C. Davidson, R C. Hoffman, of Baltimore; John F. McNair, James C. Stevenson, G. J. Boney, of Wilmington; D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte.

Judge Watts and Capt. Sharp came down from Portsmouth on a special train at 8 45 o'clock yesterday morning and left for home on the regular train on the Carolina Central at 3.05 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were entertained during a part of their stay here by a drive over the city.

The meeting of stockholders adjourned to assemble again in this city on Wednesday, December 13th, at which time it is probable that there will also be a meeting of the board of directors for the selection of officers of the road for the ensuing year.

President John Skelton Williams and Vice President and General Manager E. St. John were chosen directors to represent the Carolina Central's interest in the Wilmington Railway Bridge Company.

It is expected, also, that upon this occasion President John Skelton Williams and Vice President E St. John, of the S. A. L. system, will be in attendance. They will be entertained while here by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. J. C. Stevenson, chairman of the committee to arrange the reception for Mr. Williams and his party, in response to a letter in which on behalf of the business men of Wilmington he tendered the reception, has received the following letter:

Mr. J. C Stevenson, Chairman, care of J. C. Stevenson Co., Wilmington, N C.

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of Nov. 6th, and to extend on behalf of our president and myself, our thanks for the attention which it is proposed to show the officials of the Seaboard Air Line on their next visit to Wilmington. I shall be glad to advise you of the date when this is positively determined, and I am sure that we shall be glad to meet the business men of your beautiful city. I am glad to note that you state that it will be altogether informal and that it is tendered merely for the purpose of having the business men of Wilmington become acquainted with our president and other officials.

NEW CEMETERY COMPANY.

Organized This Week and Site Purchased South of the City—Officers Were Chosen.

A stock company was this week formed for the purchase of a site for a new cemetery and for the operation of the same. The plans for the organization of this enterprise have been on foot for some time, but the projectors were dilatory in making public their arrangements for business reasons. It can now be stated positively, however, that all the plans have matured and the site purchased to the south of the city on the Federal Point road just beyond Jump and Run creek.

The purchase of the company is ten acres with privilege of more, and the site is an ideal one, being a wide stretch of rolling surface with natural drainage.

In the company are twenty stockholders, and while they are as yet unprepared to make an announcement of the amount of capital stock, a member of the board of directors tells a STAR representative that there is ample capital behind the project to make it an assured success.

Officers of the company and a board of directors have been chosen as follows:

President—J. W. S. Harvey.
Secretary—T. C. Green.
Treasurer—J. C. Walton.
Directors—B. R. King (chairman) W. H. Biddle, E. B. Horton, J. W. Mintz and J. E. Smith.

Another meeting of stockholders will be held Monday night and the organization more thoroughly perfected.

Marriage Last Night.

At the home of Mrs. Lizzie Ellers, No. 507 Harnett street, last night at 8 o'clock, Mr. Edward Ellers was united in marriage to Mrs. Emma Underhill, Justice J. M. McGowan, officiating. It was a quiet affair and only personal friends of the bride and groom were present.

— Mr. Norris P. Eccleston, of Jonesboro, was here yesterday.

HOME WITH HIS BRIDE.

Mr. J. T. Burke, of Wilmington, Wedded to Miss C. Maud Ray, of Raleigh, Yesterday Morning.

Mr. Jesse Thomas Burke, of Wilmington, and Miss C. Maud Ray, a charming young lady of Raleigh, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. F. Ray, 108½ Fayetteville street, Raleigh. The parlor was prettily decorated with chrysanthemums and cut flowers, and there was quite an assemblage of relatives and friends to witness the nuptials.

The Rev. A. M. Sims officiated and impressively performed the ceremony. Miss Hattie Ray, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. J. W. Burke, of Goldston, N. C, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride was married in a tailor-made travelling dress of bottle-green cloth, with hat to match, and carried a lovely bouquet of bride roses and maidenhair fern. The maid of honor's bouquet was La France roses.

The couple were the recipients of a lot of handsome presents, and after receiving the congratulations of their friends they took the 10.45 A. M. train for Wilmington. They arrived here by the Atlantic Coast Line at 5.50 o'clock last evening, and repaired to Mr. Burke's cozy home at 209 South Sixth street, where a number of friends called last evening and felicitated them upon their happy union.

To morrow night, from 8 till 11 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Burke will give a reception at their residence.

DAN PACKARD OPERA COMPANY.

Will Open Week's Engagement at the Wilmington Opera House Monday Night.

During next week Wilmington will be visited by one of the largest and most complete operatic organizations in the South—the famous Dan Packard Opera Company and orchestra numbering over thirty-five persons—which commences its engagement on Monday night with an elaborate presentation of "The Mascot." At this performance a lady holding a special ladies' ticket will be admitted free when accompanied by a person holding a paid 50 cent ticket. The appearance of such a company as this in this city is out of the ordinary, and it will be a musical event of considerable note, as it has been in Richmond, Norfolk and other cities where the company has made a hit and played continued engagements.

The cast is composed, one and all, of well known artists, among them Gilbert Clayton, Charlotte Gilman, Monte Walker, Warwick Ganor, Charles N. Holmes, Josephine Kirkwood, Millie Bellani, Jessie Haylands and others. The chorus numbers over twenty voices, and is robust in voice.

Seats will be on sale at Gerken's Saturday morning. Prices 15, 25, 35 50 cents.

Enjoyable Affair.

The sociables under the auspices of St Thomas' Catholic Church are always enjoyable, and the one last night at Hibernian Hall was no exception to the rule. There was a large attendance and the evening passed away very pleasantly for everybody. A band furnished music and about thirty couples whiled away the time with dancing. During the evening the ladies served choice refreshments.

The entertainment was in charge of a committee composed as follows: Mrs. M. O'Brien, Mrs. P. Donlan, Mr. John Sweeney, Mrs. H. A. Foardman, Mrs. John Reilly, Miss Maggie Darby, Mr. M. O'Brien, Mr. T. Donlan, Mr. H. A. Foardman and Mr. R. C. Banks.

Stealing Brasses.

Joe Warrock and Willie Best, two pickaninnies, were arrested by Policeman Barden yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having stolen a large brass cuff, which they were exposing for sale at a junk shop on Fourth street between Bladen and Harnett. When accosted by the officer, one of the boys ran but was at length overhauled and his conduct on this occasion will be urged as evidence of his guilt at to-day's session of the municipal court. The boys are thought to be implicated also in a number of other petty robberies.

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 9.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONTENTION SUSTAINED.

The gold standard people are building great hopes on the annually increasing output of the gold mines to supply the metallic money of the world, thus dispensing with the use of silver, of which they seem to be about as anxious to get rid as they are of the greenbacks. This is one of the principal pleas they make for absolute declaration for the gold standard, and making all money, silver included, redeemable in gold. With the increase of gold for some years past kept up possibly there may be gold enough eventually to supply the world's demand for money, and it is not at all improbable that before many years the output of gold may exceed the output of silver, and silver become really the more precious of the two metals. What then?

The reason alleged for the demonetization of silver was that it was becoming so abundant as to have materially depreciated in value, to such an extent as to be practically worthless as a money metal. If the value of money depends upon the quantity in sight or in prospect of the metal of which it is composed, then will not this be as logically applicable to gold as to silver? And if so, may not gold become so depreciated that it will cease to be valuable enough for coin, and silver or some other metal not so abundant have to take its place? Of course we do not expect any such flood of gold as that, but logically any argument used against silver as a money metal, based on its abundance, will apply to gold, when it too becomes as abundant as anticipated.

Some of the gold organs are already looking to the time when by its abundance gold will be depreciated in value and lose its purchasing power. The Springfield Republican is one of these. Henry Clews, the New York banker, recently issued a circular stating that what we wanted to keep up prices and good times was a big influx of gold, and he expects this from the increasing product of the world's gold mines. He thinks that with the end of the South African war and the resumption of mining in the Transvaal the world's output will be $300,000,000 a year, which, he says, will furnish a legitimate basis for the inflation of prices. Commenting upon this the Springfield Republican, which does not believe in inflation, says:

"The writer of the circular was an especilly savage critic of the democratic sheme of silver remonetization, inflation and repudiation in 1896, and he is just as savage about it now as ever. But he welcomes inflation and repudiation through a greatly increased and cheapened gold circulation as something most desirable and legitimate. It must, of course, be a matter of supreme indifference to the holder of the dollar—whether he be wage-earner, fixed salary man or money lender, or one who lives on income from investments—whether the dollar is cheapened to a particular extent through a rise in prices from large additions of gold or large additions of silver to the monetary circulation. The essential fact in either case is that his income, dollar by dollar, has been reduced in purchasing power, his real wages have been cut down, the debt owing to him has been "repudiated" to a like extent.

Prices in the United States have within two or three years advanced some 33 per cent, which means that the gold dollar has been cheapened proportionately, and debts have been repudiated to the same extent. But even this is not enough for Henry Clews, of honest money fame in Wall street. He wants more repudiation. He wants a further inpour of new gold, which would further inflate prices and cut down real wages, salaries and fixed incomes, and which would further scale down debts. Bryan demands no more than this, and his way of bringing it about differs in no essential particular from this Wall street way.

The Republican sees the force of this gold inflation plea, and applies it, practically asking what is the difference between gold inflation and silver inflation. Mr. Clews, who doesn't like silver any better than the Republican does, believes that way to keep up prices as to inflate the value of currency, based on gold and make it so abundant that people can afford to pay more for what they buy than they do now. Isn't this sustaining the free silver contention that prices are governed by the value of money in circulation, that high prices when there is abundance of money to pay them, mean active markets and prosperous times?

When the silver agitation was on the advocates of free silver contended that one of the causes, and the principal cause, of falling prices and business depression was the demonetization of silver and the consequent contraction of the volume of money, resulting in the appreciation of gold and the depreciation of everything bought with money. The silver demonetizers denied this, although every one who wasn't too blind to see or who was honest enough to acknowledge the truth, knew it was true, and now Mr. Clews, the gold standard banker, practically confesses it when he says the effect of the large increase in the gold supply will be to inflate the volume of money and keep prices up.

But Mr. Clews is right as to the effect he anticipates as a result of an increased volume of money whether that increased volume be realized or or not, and he practically admits that the free silver men who made tbe same contention years ago were right when they protested against the demonetization of silver, and the practical destruction of one half our metallic money, and demanded the restoration of silver as one of our standard moneys. The very prosperity on which we are now congratulating ourselves, and which the gold standard advocates falsely claim as a result of the "confidence" resulting from the "sound money" victory at the last Presidential election, is a proof of this, for it was the volume of money brought into the country by the food stuffs sent abroad to feed the people of other countries, and the money put in circulation by the war with Spain that renewed business activity, stimulated enterprise and created a demand for many products, with corresponding high prices. Unduly contract the volume of currency, take away the foreign demand for our products, and there would be a collapse and a tumble in prices immediately. An abundance of money means good times and high prices, and the more of it the better. There is no danger of a country like this with its 75,000,000 of progressive, industrious and enterprising people having too much. They haven't half as much now as they ought to have.

REALIZING THE SIZE OF IT.

While we have little definite or trustworthy information, but much that is conflicting, from the scene of hostilities in South Africa, it is quite apparent by this time that the British have a tough task before them and that they realize it. It is now confessed that they greatly underestimated both the courage and the resources of the Boers, whom they affected to despise. The reports which we get by way of London are censored reports, and consequently large allowance must be made for the alleged casualties to the Boers; while on the contrary large allowance must also be made for the reports that come through French and German channels, for they lean towards the Boers and doubtless contain a good deal of coloring.

One thing, however, is notable in the English reports, censored as they are, and that is that the British are making savage and implacable war, the great destruction of life in the Boer armies being caused by lyddite shells and earth mines. This is war, but it is butchery all the same. Great Britain will conquer in the end if there be no complications with other governments, because she has the advantage in numbers and resources, but if she does it will be, as Paul Kruger expressed it, "at a cost that will stagger humanity."

TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS.

As far as we can see there are no surprises in the elections that were held last Tuesday, for the Republicans have held the States which they carried in 1896, with the single exception of Maryland, which was redeemed by the Democrats, (that is if the Republicans have carried Kentucky), and the Democrats have held their States. The Democrats would have carried Kentucky if it hadn't been for the fool fight the factions waged against each other, making the carrying of the State by the Republicans a sort of cake walk.

There may and doubtless will be more or less change in the figures that come in later, which will show the gains and losses, and give some idea of the changes in popular sentiment and the effect of the issues that were discussed. But substantially the result leaves us about where we were before the election, each party about holding its own and neither having much to exult over.

DEATH OF DR. SANDERLIN.

The announcement of the death of Dr. George W. Sanderlin, which occurred in Baltimore last Sunday, will be received with sorrow throughout the State, for he was an honored citizen and much beloved by those who knew him. He was State Auditor from 1889 to 1893. Mr. Cleveland appointed him third Auditor of the Treasury, which position he held until after the inauguration of Mr. McKinley, when he resigned. But continued to reside in Washington. As a young man he served in the Confederate army. At the close of the war he studied for the ministry of the Baptist Church and achieved distinction as a brilliant scholar. He remained in the ministry from 1868 till 1876, when he retired from the active ministry on account of failing health. He was an eloquent speaker, a genial, amiable gentleman, and a patriotic and devoted son of North Caroiina.

BOOK NOTICES.

Self Culture for November presents a varied list of contents which the reader will find both interesting and instructive Among other attractive articles is "A Trip to the Klondike," which gives a vivid description of that interesting region. "The World and Its Doings" is, as usual, a condensation of much interesting matter. This number is well il ustrated. Published by the Warren Company, Akron, Ohio.

Four of the leading articles in the November number of The Review of Reviews, are "Cecil J. Rhodes; a Character Sketch," by Wm. T. Stead; "England at War with the Boers;" "The Peace Conference and the Monroe Doctrine," and "The Problem of Territorial Expansion," by President Schurman, of the Philippine Commission. Among the other articles is one on "The Toledo Manual Training School," an interesting subject, in view of the attention technical training is attracting in the South. These and other articles are all well illustrated. Address Review of Reviews Co., 13 Astor Place, New York.

During the past twelve months we have sold $4,500,000 worth of locomotives to English railways, and in the same time English locomotive builders have sold about the same amount to other countries. The New York World says this is hard to explain satisfactorily. Not at all. Other countries have not caught on to the true inwardness of the American locomotive as the English railway men have. When they do they will buy American locomotives as the English are doing.

Li Hung Chang says the United States should "buy off" Aguinaldo. Li understands the buying business, and being bought, too, and his Oriental optics fail to see the difference as a matter of morality and principle between buying the Sultan of Sulu at one price and Aguinaldo at a somewhat higher price.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

— Greenville Reflector: The sheriff of Edgecombe county has loaned a gallows to Sheriff Mooring, upon which to hang Elijah Joyner on Friday, the 10th. The execution will be public. Joyner has professed religion, and on Saturday was baptized in his cell, three colored ministers being present to participate in the ceremonies.

—Gastonia News: Messrs. Andrew Sherrill and Ephraim Houser were out hunting birds near Cherryville last Wednesday. They were both watching a covey of birds at the same time and in some way Mr. Houser's gun was discharged, inflicting a wound in Mr. Sherrill's stomach from which he died in about three hours.

— Raleigh News and Observer: Owing to early frosts, the "top crop" of cotton, that deceptive growth which sometimes pans out, but just as often fails, will not be very heavy in this locality this year. Though the reports continue to indicate a short crop of cotton, the price for the staple does not advance like it was believed a few weeks ago it would. Many buyers made the public announcement a few weeks since that cotton would go to ten cents before January 1st. The prediction still has two months to run, but it now looks as if it hardly get so high.

— Asheboro Courier: The tax returns show that there has been a decrease in this county in the number of live stock and cattle during the fiscal year, ending in June, in all except hogs. As compared with the number last year there is an increase in the county of 1 per cent. of hogs; a decrease of 10 per cent. in cows; 19 per cent. decrease in beef cattle; 4 per cent. decrease in horses; 3 per cent. decrease in mules; 22 per cent. decrease in sheep. This shows that cattle and sheep buyers have been active. There is a decrease throughout the State of an average of about 7 per cent. in all kinds of stock and cattle.

— Asheville Citizen: Kope Elias, Esq., of Franklin, is in the city. He came here direct from attendance upon a meeting of the directors of the Black Diamond Railway, held at Middlesboro, Ky. This road, for which Mr. Elias procured a charter last Spring, is an important one for the people of Western North Carolina, especially those of Swain and Macon counties. The line will extend from Clay City, Ky., via Jellico, Knoxville, Swain and Macon to Port Royal, S. C., and will have a total length of 550 miles. It is to be built by English capitalists, and will be a double track line. Mr. Elias says the survey will be completed within two weeks, and work on the road will be begun in the Winter or early Spring.

Cold Steel or Death.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure Stomach and Liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles, and never disappoints. Price 50c at ROBT. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. †

INDIAN GAMES.

The Mistaken Notion That They Are Varieties of Pit Games.

In the July issue of The Reliable Poultry Journal W. S. Templeton of Dakota, Ills., gives a long and interesting account of Cornish Indian Games and White Indian Games, of which he is an extensive breeder. A note by the editor of The Journal preceding Mr. Templeton's article says:

"There is a movement on foot to drop the word 'game' in the names of the two varieties treated of in the article. The present standard of perfection designates them as the Cornish Indian Games and the White Indian Games. It is claimed that the word game or games arouses in the minds of many persons an unjust prejudice, through their wrongfully associating these two varieties with the pit games or fighters. The Cornish and White Indian Games are not fighters—not more so than are the Brahmas, Plymouth Rocks or Wyandottes; hence it would no doubt serve a good purpose if the word games were dropped from their name. Mr. Templeton is of this opinion. The correct and practical way to bring this about will to secure from the breeders a vote by mail, then take the matter before a regular meeting of the American Poultry association."

IMPORTED CORNISH INDIAN ADMIRAL.

The accompanying illustration is from a photograph of the first prize Cornish Indian cock at the Chicago show, January, 1899. The bird was bred and is owned by Mr. Templeton. Admiral is a modern upstanding type of Indian and weighs ten pounds.

Grocery Bills and Eggs.

About the most satisfactory antidote we have found for the grocer's bill, which astonishes us every six months, is hen fruit. When we place 15 dozen eggs every week against a week's grocery purchase we have things pretty well balanced, oftentimes calling for a credit of a dollar or two. We don't make any attempts at growing poultry as a money crop nor selling eggs as a business. We simply take to market 15 or 20 dozen eggs every week during the laying season and sell them to our grocer at the prevailing price, taking same in trade. The result is but little if any cash is extracted from our pocket by the vender of merchandise. This inspires confidence in the great rose combed hen which costs us so little to keep and responds so liberally to regular feeding of inexpensive feeds. We have come to regard the hen as a necessary appurtenance on the farm and given her a place on the account book or ledger where her business is recorded from month to month.

Eggs sold here last winter for 35 cents per dozen; the present price is 12 cents, which is the average the year around. At this price eggs, and butter at 25 cents per pound, will balance the grocery bill easily. If it succeeds for us, why not with you?

The reason some people decry the poultry business is they have tried it on a loose, haphazard basis, and quite naturally met failure or disappointment in profits. One should engage therein by degrees, going from one point to another guided and aided by past experience. Like any other business, it requires a pretty good amount of common hard sense to successfully manage it, and without this all essential there is nothing in it save experience. We have been all along the line and speak from failures and successes, about evenly or equally divided. We started on a small scale and have not yet reached the B class, so to speak.—National Stockman and Farmer.

The Color of the Yolk.

The Baltimore Sun says a gentleman remarked the other day in a Baltimore restaurant: "I don't eat eggs now. They are not good. Thin, pale yolks show it." Another said in reply: "Well, I'll order soft boiled eggs, for I know that it is grass and green weeds that make the yolks that very dark color they have later on, and it is the good grain food they have to feed now to make hens lay that makes the yolks so pale. I've raised chickens and know." There are city people to whom the taste of a genuine fresh laid egg would be a revelation.

Green Bone.

The value of green bone lies in its well proportioned and numerous constituents, which are just what is needed by the hen to produce eggs, says Inland Poultry. In it we have lime for the shell, mineral water for the yolk and albumen for the white. It is as near an all around food as any can be. There is only one objection to it, and that is that it is somewhat concentrated. If hens are fed on it entirely, they will eat too much; hence, it is necessary to feed it in connection with some bulky food, such as clover or bran.

Plants protect themselves by terrifying attitudes, just as do insects. One of the uses of the movements of the sensitive plant is to frighten animals. A venturesome browsing creature coming near it is afraid to touch a plant which so evidently is occupied by spirits.

In an article on the danger of long hours in druggists' shops the London Lancet says that during the four years ending July, 1898, 18 dispensing assistants in drug stores committed suicide, and seven others attempted, but failed, to kill themselves. These suicides were the consequence of the physical conditions induced by the taking of drugs to resist the effects of fatigue.

HE LEFT HIM THERE.

A Celtic Philosopher's Little Engagement With the Bull.

"I never hear the ancient saw about 'taking the bull by the horns,'" began Buggins briskly as the conversation in his corner of the clubroom began to lag, "but what I am reminded of a characteristic story about an Irishman (the Irish are partial to bulls, you know) who rashly attempted to perform the feat in question—not figuratively, but literally—with the result that the bull, resenting such familiarity, charged on its tormentor and by a simple toss of his head suddenly deposited Patrick, or whatever his name was, on the opposite side of a six foot fence some dozen or 15 feet away.

"The Emerald Islander was considerably shaken up and bewildered by his unexpected journey through the air and the abrupt manner in which he had brought up on his back in the adjoining field, and several minutes elapsed before he had recovered his senses sufficiently to get up and inquire into the affair. When he had finally crawled painfully to his feet, the first thing that dawned on his dazed vision was the still enraged bovine on the other side of the high rail fence, bellowing and pawing up the landscape.

"It took the puzzled son of the old sod some time to figure out just what had happened, but after several minutes of hard cogitation, accompanied by vigorous scratching of the head, he finally solved the mystery, or thought he did, and with true Celtic philosophy he announced:

"'Be jabers, the bull is on t'other side of the fence all right, an Oi must've t'rowed him there before Oi become insinsible. But it give me a moighty har-rd twist of it ter git him over, so it did, an now, by the powers, the ugly divil kin stay there till doomsday before Oi'll climb over an t'row him back.'

"And, well satisfied with his exploit, Pat limped away."—Will S. Gidley in August Woman's Home Companion.

Currant Leaf Blight.

Leaf blight often appears on currant bushes about midsummer. It begins as whitish spots with dark centers, which spread over the leaf, causing it to drop prematurely, often leaving the bush entirely naked by September. As a preventive, spray with bordeaux mixture, ammoniacal carbonate of copper or potassium sulphide solution.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

THE LIGHT BRAHMAS.

Their Controverted History—Standard by Which They Are Judged.

The leading variety of the Asiatic class is the Light Brahma. This fowl has a history that would fill pages were it recorded. These are the fowls which caused the "hen fever" of the fifties, about which so much has been written in later years. Their early history is a matter of controversy, the best authorities differing as to their origin.

They were first known as the Brahma Pootras, Gray Shanghais, Chittagongs, Cochin Chinas and what not. The early breeder named them according to his fancy for high sounding and sensational names to sell his stock. Fabulous prices were paid for them when the craze for fine poultry was at its height in the early days of the last half of the present century. The standard of the present Brahmas was fixed in 1869, and no deviation from the type then adopted has been made. They have stood high in popular favor since then without abatement. The vast number of breeders who are raising them fully attest their worth as a practical bird to the industry. The Brahma is a characteristic fowl. It is unlike other varieties, and it should not be confounded in shape with the Cochin.

The average Light Brahma male is in height 26 inches; back from the ground, 16 inches; keel from the ground, 8 inches; length of body, front of breast to rear of fluff, 14 inches; height of tail, a trifle over 21 inches; saddle hangers to rear of fluff, 2¼ inches; eye, from tip of beak, 2 1-6 inches; length of head and beak, 3½ inches; breasts to rear of a drop line from point of beak, three-quarters to 1¼ inches. As specimens depart from this proportion they become awkward and valueless as exhibition stock and often, also, as egg producers. In shape, oblong, with full, broad and round breast, carried well forward. The fullness and oblong shape is typical of the Brahma and is characteristic of prolific birds. The curves of neck and back are similar to those of the outlines of an egg.

In plumage the male is pure white, excepting hackle, tail and flights, which are black and white striped with black. Any other color but white and black is against the standard bred bird. The hackle is white, with a black stripe extending down the center of each feather and tapering to a point near the extremity. The tail feathers are black, and sickles are glossy greenish black. The shanks are well feathered, with the feathering extending down the middle toe. The toe feathering may be white or white sprinkled with black, pure white preferred. A small pea comb, broad crown, projects over the eyes. Bright red face, wattles and ear lobes are essential to a good head. The shanks and toes are bright yellow.

The Brahma female is much like the male in head qualities, having broad comb, projecting well over the eyes, and small pea comb. The head of the female should be masculine in appearance. The head is white; hackle, white striped with black, as in male; cape, white and black, but is completely covered by hackle when the bird stands erect; tail, black, excepting the two highest main tail feathers, which may be edged with white; tail coverts, one or more rows, distinctly covering a part of both sides of the main tail, two rows being preferable, one black edged with white.

The Light Brahmas are valuable birds for the farm. They have always been made to pay for their keep and have seldom been set aside by any who have bred them.—Farmers' Bulletin No. 51.

Poultry Points For Farmers.

For a general purpose fowl we believe the Plymouth Rock is unsurpassed.

An intelligent study of the poultry business, details in regard to buildings, care, feed, diseases, preparing for market and kindred subjects, such as may be found in a progressive poultry journal, is requisite to success.

It is most profitable to sell to regular customers, gaining and holding their confidence by quality and freshness of poultry products and attractiveness of packages delivered.

The best time to sell is in June or July. Plymouth Rocks at 2 years of age, a good selling age, will often weigh six, eight and even ten pounds, and from select customers will bring 10 to 14 cents per pound. Early chickens are harder to raise than late ones; they are also more profitable.

We have realized greater profits from the sale of eggs than from that of chickens, but believe a combination of the two is desirable.

The exercise of intelligence, industry, common sense, patience, perseverance and eternal vigilance will insure successful poultry raising on the farm.—Farm, Field and Fireside.

Not Enough Yet.

Incubator manufacturers in Canada have done more than treble the business of any other season, says a correspondent, yet next spring the commission merchants will again complain. "We can't get the birds."

The banana is said to be the most prolific of all food products, being 44 times more productive than potatoes and 128 times more than wheat.

The Grief of Parting.

The man leaned right into the railway carriage. There was positive anguish in his drawn face. The lady inside was very pretty and beautifully dressed. Her softnesses of complexion and hair, of lace and filmy material, triumphed in the searching glare of the electric light, which showed the rich luxury of every detail of her costume. She smiled with a pretty, regretful tenderness as she replied lightly to his earnest works. He looked at her as if he could never look long enough, as if her face held for him the whole meaning of life. As the train began to move, his fingers fell passionately on the ungloved hand resting on the window ledge; then instinctively he sprang back, raised his hat, and I caught in full light a glimpse of his white face.

Directly the train steamed out of the station the lady rose, carefully rolled up her veil, and, quite indifferent to my presence, proceeded before the mirror in the carriage to dust her face with a dainty pocket handkerchief, and to apply to forehead and nose the minutest layer of powder with a tiny puff. She patted and arranged her curls, drawing them with a hairpin into coquettish position and curve, and then, lowering her veil, she sank into the seat with a sigh of satisfaction.—Academy.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 9.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

In Convention at Richmond—Tablets to Memory of the Davis Family Unveiled. Monuments to be Unveiled To-day.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., November 8.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy assembled in their sixth annual convention at the Jefferson Hotel roof garden here this morning. Mrs. Kate Cabell Currie, the president, called the body to order. Mrs. Norman V. Randolph welcomed the Daughters and Mrs. E. C. Minor, on behalf of Mrs. Jos. Bryan, president of the Ladies' Memorial Literary Society, who could not be present, also read a welcoming address. Mrs. Currie responded. Mrs. James G. Leigh, of Norfolk, president of the Virginia State division, presented a gavel made by a Confederate soldier from the tree under which General Lee made his last speech to the Confederate soldiers. The gavel will be used during the convention and will then be returned to Mrs. Attwood, of Appomattox.

The convention then adjourned, in order that the delegates might attend the unveiling of the tablets in St. Paul's Church to Miss Winnie Davis and the Davis sons. The church was crowded and the services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Louden R Mason, and Bishop George W. Peterkin, of the Episcopal Diocese of West Virginia, delivered the addressed, which he paid a beautiful tribute to Mr. Davis, Miss Winnie and the women of the South.

Immediately after this, Jefferson Hayes Davis, the grandson of President Davis, released the veil covering the tablets, and they were exposed to view.

Mrs. Davis was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs Hayes; Mrs. George Ross; Judge and Mrs. John H Regan, of Texas; Mrs. Hart of New York, and Mr. Edgar R Farrar, of New York. They occupied a pew in the centre aisle.

The tablet to Winnie Davis has a bronzed bas relief of Miss Davis and rests on a slab of colored marble. The inscription is:

"Daughter of the Confederacy, Varina Anne Davis, born July 27, 1864, entered into eternal life September 18, 1898. 'Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God.'"

The tablet to the children is to the memory of the four sons of President Davis, Samuel Emory, Jefferson, Jr., Joseph Evans and William Howell Davis. The former was erected by friends, and the latter by Mrs. Hayes.

The monument to Winnie Davis, erected in Hollywood cemetery by the Daughters of the Confederacy, and the monuments to Mr. Davis and Jefferson Davis, Jr., will be unveiled tomorrow with imposing ceremonies. General Fitzhugh Lee will be one of the speakers at the unveiling.

The afternoon session of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was devoted to routine business. The only feature of the session was that the convention united in singing "Dixie."

Before final adjournment the convention will take up the question of assuming charge of the building of the Davis monument in this city, the corner stone of which was laid some time ago. There was no night session, the delegates attending a reception given by the local chapter.

RELATIONS WITH CHINA.

Nothing Under Consideration Between Great Britain and the United States of a Sensational Character.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—Officials here are at a loss to know what is meant by the mysterious London dispatch relative to Anglo American relations as to China, which was of such a startling character that it could not be published. It is stated that there is nothing under consideration in this line at present between Great Britain and the United States that can be said to be of a sensational character.

The Chinese government, through its minister in Washington, We Ting-Fang, is keeping a watchful eye on the recent developments relating to China. Within the last few days Minister Wu conferred with Secretary Hay, with a view to learning to what extent the United States had acted. The response of the Secretary of State is understood to be quite full and frank, and to the effect that at the request of the President our ambassadors and ministers abroad had been asked to secure definite assurances that there should be no interruption to the access of American trade and commerce to the interior of China through the treaty ports.

The view prevails that while there will be no difficulty in securing general assurances of a favorable character, it is not so certain that a definite statement in writing or other tangible form will be given. Those best acquainted with the subject hold that Great Britain, Germany and Russia will coincide with the American view, and that if any objection comes it is likely to arise in France, as the French policy in Madagascar and Cochin China is to give preferential rates to French goods and discriminations against foreign goods. From this it is implied that France would not give a definite assurance that American commerce will be on equal terms in China where French spheres of influence prevail.

LONDON, November 8.—The Morning Post publishes the following dispatch from Washington:

"Negotiations in London have resulted in an agreement between Great Britain, China and the United States to maintain their "open door" policy in China, which power will undertake to develop both British and American trade. It is understood that Germany and probably Russia will give the United States written assurances as to the maintenance of the open door."

WORK OF PROFESSIONALS.

Sheriff's Safe at Hillsboro, N. C., Cracked and Robbed of $5,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, November 8.—News was received here to day that the safe in the office of Sheriff Hughes, at Hillsboro, was cracked last night. The robbers got $5,000 in cash, $1,000 being in $20 gold pieces. No clue has been obtained as to the identity of the thieves, and the robbery is supposed to have been the work of professionals.

AN IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not afflicted with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a costive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. BRITISH HOLD THEIR GROUND.

General White Maintains His Position Against the Boers at Ladysmith.

BOERS ABANDON COLENSO.

British Force Assembled to Re-occupy the Place—Reinforcements From Durban Arrive at Estcourt—Troopships Have Not Yet Arrived.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The most interesting news to-night is a dispatch from Estcourt, announcing the departure of a strong force of mounted troops and artillery for a destination not given in the advices. Another message announces the arrival at Estcourt and Pietermaritzburg within the last few days of reinforcements from Durban, and that thirty-five hundred troops are assembled, ready for an advance to Colenso when the opportune moment arrives. The latter dispatch throws light upon the former and the force which left Estcourt Monday has doubtless re-occupied Colenso and possibly is now advancing cautiously up the railroad toward Ladysmith. General White's sortie of Friday, almost to the banks of the Tugela river, encourages its commander with the hope of joining hands with him.

General Joubert, the latest advices would indicate, drew in his horns after Friday's engagement and has since withdrawn the southern Boer contingents, leaving only outposts on the line from Ladysmith to Colenso. The Boers who occupied Colenso above the middle of last week, retired without damaging Bulwer bridge over the Tugela river, or the railroad as far north as the village of Nelthrope, seven miles south of Ladysmith. Evidently, they nurse a hope of eventually utilizing both in their descent on Pietermaritzburg. Meanwhile the British are also able to use both, as they have already done, in running up an armored train which may at the present moment be covering the advance of the Estcourt force.

Troopships Have Not Arrived.

None of the troopships has arrived. The one which it was predicted might reach Cape Town at the earliest on Monday is as yet unannounced, and even when it does arrive there, it will have three days steaming to reach Durban. As many as six transports with 4,500 troops are expected to be in Cape Town harbor by this time, but the war office last evening issued a statement to the effect that the only arrivals at Cape Town were the Sumatra, from Durban, with wounded, the Southern Cross from Gibraltar with mules and the collier Wenvoe.

Of course it is possible that dispatch boats have been sent to meet the troopships with instructions to proceed direct to Durban, and in that event the War Office statement that not one has arrived at Cape Town would be literally accurate, even though several should be half-way between Cape Town and Durban.

Situation at Mafeking.

The situation looks brighter at Mafeking, where the Boers are apparently disheartened at the unexpected resistance, a large body of their force having been detached to the South to assist in the investment of Kimberly, around which the cordon is drawing tighter. Evidently the Boers intend to make a concentrated effort to capture Kimberly and their arch-enemy, Cecil Rhodes.

The reported departure of a Boer contingent from Pretoria, with German artillery gunners, moving in a southerly direction, is taken to mean co operation in the invasion of the northern portions of Cape Colony, an undertaking which, thus far, has not progressed very rapidly.

Reports of a treacherous use of the white flag by the Boers, coming from native sources, are not received with complete credulity, but, at the same time their reiteration is making an unfavorble impression.

Battle of Nicholson's Nek.

CAPE TOWN, Sunday, November 5.—The following is an official description from Pretoria of the battle of Nicholson's Nek:

"General Joubert was in supreme command. The Britishers advanced in the darkness on the Republic forces, on the right of the hill, formed by the Free Staters, commanded by General Cronje. A stampede of their mules threw the whole force into disorder. The British batteries were observed in a long line on the plains in the direction of the Boers' centre, along the table hill, from which our artillery opened on the English batteries coming into position from Lombardskop with a creusot. The second shell fell in their midst. It was followed by shot after shot, drawing the British concealed batteries. From six to twelve the hill was a veritable inferno of hissing, whistling fragments of shells. At first the British failed to reach the hill, while the Boer fire told heavily. Eventually the British reached the Boers and showered shells on our gunners. The Boers could only occasionally fire their guns. While a wounded gunner bandaged himself, another fought, oblivious of the fragments of shells at his back. Dr. Hohls was killed while bandaging the wounded.

"In the meantime the burghers got their howitzers further forward and into play and the extreme end of Meyer's battery got in deadly work." [The remainder of the dispatch has not been received.]

To Protect Free State Border.

COLESBURG, November 6.—It is reported that 3,000 Boers have left Pretoria and are going to protect the southern border of the Orange Free State. They are said to be accompanied by a large contingent of German artillery with quick-firing guns of heavy calibre.

ESTCOURT, NATAL, November 6.—The Natal field artillery left camp today, escorted by troops of the Imperial light horse, carbineers and Natal police. The destination of the force is unknown.

Firing was heard this morning in the direction of Colenso, from which it is believed the Boers have resumed the bombardment of Ladysmith.

QUEENSTOWN, CAPE COLONY, November 5.—It is reported that the Boers have blown up the Stormburg Spruit bridge, as a terrific explosion was heard in the direction of the bridge.

Boers Badly Cut Up.

DURBAN, Nov. 5.—Other information confirms the statement of native eye witnesses respecting the severity of the fighting on both Friday and Saturday at Ladysmith. The natives assert that the Boers were so cut up that they howled for mercy on the field and covered their bodies. Ladysmith is crowded with Boer prisoners and wounded, the latter presenting horrible evidence of the swordsmanship of the cavalry. The Gordon highlanders suffered severely in the fighting.

PARTITION OF THE SAMOAN ISLANDS.

A Deal Between the Governments of Germany and Great Britain.

THE UNITED STATES' SHARE.

So-Called Neutral Zone in Africa to be Divided Between Germany and Great Britain — A Relinquishment of Certain German Rights.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—It was officially announced this morning that an agreement, subject to the approval of the United States, had been arrived at between Great Britain and Germany, by virtue of which the Samoan act is repealed and the islands of Upols, Savaii and the small adjacent islands fall to Germany as free property, and the island of Tutuila and the subsidiary islands go to the United States. Great Britain, it is added renounces any claim to the Samoan islands and Germany, in turn, renounces any claim to the Tonga islands and to Savage island, in favor of Great Britain, and also concedes Choiseul and San Isabel, the two easterly islands of the Solomon group, with their insula surroundings to Great Britain. The consular representatives of the two powers in Samoa and the Tonga islands are to be withdrawn for the present, and German subjects are to have the same rights as British subjects in regard to the free and unimpeded enlistment of native laborers in the whole of the Solomon group in the possession of Great Britain, including Choiseul and San Isabel.

Territory in South Africa Divided.

At the same time an agreement has been arrived at between the two powers, by virtue of which the so called neutral zone in the hinterland of German togoland the British gold coast will be divided in such manner that the boundary of the German and British territories will be formed by the Paka river up to a point where the latter cuts the ninth degree of latitude, thence north by a line to be fixed by a mixed commission. To this is appended a reservation that the countries of Mamprusi and Gambasa shall fall to Great Britain and the countries of Yeudi and Chakosi to Germany. Finally, according to the decision of the colonial council, Germany has promised to renounce her extra territorial rights in Zanzibar till the expiration of the commercial treaty in 1902, with the proviso that the renunciation is only effective when the other nations abandon their extra-territorial rights in Zanzibar in favor of Great Britain. Regarding this agreement, it is observed that the United States' assent is regarded as assured.

A further agreement concluded between Germany, Great Britain and the United States is to the effect that the question of compensation for claims for damage during the late trouble is to be submitted to an imperial court of arbitration, which will decide the claims.

Confirmed in London.

LONDON, November 8.—The British Foreign Office to-day gave out a statement in regard to the Samoan agreement similar to that issued in Berlin, showing that the United States gets the Tutuila and other Samoan islands east of the 171st degree of longitude.

The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail says he has learned that the Samoan agreement contains secret clauses relating to South Africa, whereby the plans of Cecil Rhodes are advanced a step toward realization.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—The State Department has not yet been advised of the agreement between Great Britain and Germany respecting the Samoan group. It is gathered, however, that if the outline of the agreement set out in the cable advices is accurate, there will be no disposition to withhold our approval, provided certain minor conditions are included.

Gen. MacArthur's Forces Capture Mabalacat Without Loss.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, November 8.—General MacArthur has occupied Mabalacat. His entire line, including the Twelfth, Seventeenth and Ninth infantry and part of the fourth cavalry, is extended three miles in front of Angles in a good tractional position.

Major Bell took Mabalacat. Being ordered to reconnoitre yesterday until he located the enemy, he pushed to the town, driving out two companies of insurgents, and killing several Filipino officers. The Americans suffered no loss.

GOEBEL ELECTED IN KENTUCKY.

Plurality of Over 15,000 for the Democratic Candidate for Governor.

LEGISLATURE IS DEMOCRATIC

Contested by Republicans—The Legislature Will Decide — Ohio's Election—The Result in Other States.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 8.—No matter what result the face of the returns of yesterday's State election shows, a contest is very likely to occur. Additional returns received to-day and to-night, continue to show Republican gains, and basing an estimate upon the normal complexion of the precincts still unreported indicate a plurality of six thousand or eight thousand for W. S. Taylor for Governor. The belated returns are mostly from mountain counties which are strongly Republican.

The Goebel people cling to their claim of a plurality of 5,000 in the State, these figures being the estimate made by the nominee himself to-night.

At Republican headquarters, in this city, Taylor's plurality is placed at 8,000. In neither case is it possible to get the figures upon which the claim is based, each side evidently fearing that giving publicity to the reports of its agents throughout the State might work to the advantage of its opponent in the event of a contest.

Legislature Will Decide.

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 8.—In view of the probability of a contest over the vote for Governor, this statement, made by Chairman Long at 11 o'clock to-night, is significant:

Said Mr. Long: "The Legislature is close, but I think we have lost both houses. From semi-official returns from all counties except twelve and careful estimates from these we have carried the State by eight thousand plurality for Taylor."

In the event of a contest it will come before the Legislature. This is the case only with the offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor. The law covering this point provides that a board for determining a contest for Governor shall be chosen in the Legislature by lot, the Senate selecting three and the House eight members. The decision of this board is not final nor conclusive. It must report to the General Assembly, where further action may be taken.

To-night's developments bring the Legislature into prominence, because of the probability that it ultimately will have to determine who is to be the next Governor of Kentucky. In all expressions upon the result of the election, coming from Democratic headquarters, the Legislature has been claimed as safe for that party. No statement of its make up has been given, but it is probable a number of the members claimed by the Democrats are not Goebel men. If the strength of the two great parties is nearly equal these anti-Goebel Democrats probably would hold the balance of power, thus furnishing all the elements for a repetition of the exciting and bitter contest of 1897, which resulted in the defeat of Blackburn for the United States Senate. While the returns on the head of the tickets are incomplete, but little attention has been paid to the figures on members of the Legislature, and until the contest between the leaders is cleared up somewhat it will be hard to get an accurate estimate of the relative strength of the parties in the Assembly.

Goebel Claims His Election.

FRANKFORT, KY., November 8.—Senator Goebel arrived here at 8 o'clock to-night and was met at the train by a crowd of 1,500 enthusiastic followers. From the balcony of the Capital hotel where his headquarters is located, Mr. Goebel made a speech in which he said:

"I believe I have been elected in fact I know I have. I see my friend General Taylor says he will resume the office of Governor. All I have to say is, if I have been elected, as I believe, I will be inaugurated in spite of the Louisville and Nashville railroad and Bradley's bayonets."

Ex-Senator Blackburn also spoke, claiming Goebel's election by a slender majority and calling on the people to see to it that he is seated.

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 8.—Returns received by the Courier-Journal up to midnight give Goebel a plurality in the State, outside of the Eleventh district, of 15,300. The Eleventh district, as far as received, shows the usual Republican majorities. Six counties in this district which last night reported Taylor pluralities, to-night send revised figures increasing these pluralities by 1,800. On the other hand the First district, in the the extreme western part of the State, the banner Democratic district, increases its plurality for Goebel several hundred over the figures returned last night.

Warrants have been sworn out against upward of 200 elections officers and others in Louisville, alleging intimidation of voters. The cases will be presented to the Federal grand jury.

Democratic on Joint Ballot.

FRANKFORT, KY., November 8.—Chairman Blackburn of the Democratic State campaign committee, at this hour, mid-night, gave the following figures of the complexion of the next Legislature: Senate—Democrats, 7; Republicans, 11. House—Democrats, 55; Republicans, 45; with chance of 58 to 42.

CINCINNATI, O., November 8.—Unofficial returns have been received by the Western Union from all counties in Ohio, with a few scattering precincts estimated. The footings give Nash, Republican, for Governor, a pluralty of 49,205. The reports in most cases give only the pluralities and hence it has not been possible to give the total vote of the candidates. The Jones vote, however, has been reported from forty-seven counties, including Cuyahogo, Lucas, Hamilton and Summit, where the largest vote for him was cast. It shows a total in forty-seven counties of 82,787.

In Maryland.

BALTIMORE, November 8.—Unofficial returns from Baltimore city and all the counties of the State show that the Democrats swept practically everything before them in yesterday's contest. John Walter Smith, Dr. Joshua Herring and Isidore Bayner, their candidates for Governor, Comptroller and Attorney General, respectively, were elected over the Republican candidates by approximately 11,300 majority. The official count, it is thought, will not materially change these figures. The Democrats elected eleven State Senators for four-year terms, which, with their four holdovers, will give them fifteen out of a total membership of twenty six in the upper house of the General Assembly.

In the lower house, composed of ninety-one members, the Democrats elected sixty-six, while the Republicans will have only twenty-five delegates in the Legislature to meet in January of next year.

Iowa Returns.

DES MOINES, November 8.—Returns from ninety of the ninety-nine counties in the State, with estimates on the others, show that the Republican claim of 60,000 plurality for Governor Shaw is easily maintained and may go slightly above that figure. His majority over all candidates for Governor is estimated at 48,000, largest in the history of the State on the gubernatorial vote. The Legislature will stand: Senate—35 Republicans and 15 Democrats. House—83 Republicans and 17 Democrats; a gain of 17 votes on joint ballot for the Republicans. Both the Gear and Cummins forces claim a majority of the Republican votes for the U S. Senatorship.

New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Returns received from up the State increase the Republican Assembly membership to 93, against 57 Democrats; a Republican gain of 12.

In New York county the largest Tammany plurality was that of the candidate for surrogate, Abner C. Thomas, 55,670.

WITHDRAWING FROM THE BORDER.

LONDON, November 9.—The Daily Mail has the following dispatch from Queenstown, Cape Colony, dated Sunday night:

"The railway staff is withdrawing from all the border stations, between this and De Aar. There is no cause for alarm, however, with reference to the border towns. General Buller has taken effective steps to check the Boer advance. Censorship prevents particularizing, but you may expect good news soon."

A marriage license was yesterday issued to Admiral George Dewey and Mrs Mildred Hazen. The age of the Admiral is given as 61, and his bride elect 48.

Additional reports from South Dakota make but little change in the Republican majority, increasing it from 3,875 to 4,017.

The newspapers in London unanimously regard Mr. McKinley's election to a second presidential term as assured.

WILMINGTON STEAM LAUNDRY,

Corner Front and Orange,

is the only Steam Laundry in the city where the washing and ironing are done by machinery and where it is done through all the different processes. When the clothing comes out it is CLEAN. We can do Domestic or Gloss finish, whichever you prefer. We run two wagons and collect and deliver all goods. We employ about 22 hands on our pay roll running from ninety to one hundred dollars a week. Our last week about $100 a year. All this is left in Wilmington. How much does the Chinaman leave here? Think of it! Then when you want laundry work done and call up Bell 'Phone 29, Inter-State 209.
